

Isobel Conlan

ShapeChangers: Isobel Conlan

What were your initial thoughts when you heard about this project?

Once I heard about the project, I thought it was a very cool idea and seemed like a very beautiful project for the community.

What are your artistic interests?

I really enjoy doing portraits of people as well as multimedia stuff, and since doing this project I really enjoy working with clay and ceramics.

ShapeChangers: Isobel Conlan

What inspired your artwork?

I love the shape of stag antlers. I just think they are very beautiful animals.

What do you think you have learned from taking part in this project?

I've learned to take more patience and care with my work because clay work is very difficult to do loads of details.

ShapeChangers: Isobel Conlan

How have you found working in Reachout's studio?

The atmosphere is so friendly and every single time I've visited I've walked out with a smile on my face. The staff are so lovely.

Can you describe the process of making your artwork?

I sort of had my idea from the beginning so most of my process was figuring out the shapes and colors I wanted to take forward and developing my initial idea into finished pieces.